TO THE
SENIOR CLASS
OF 1958

I am humbly grateful to the members of the Senior Class of 1958 for honoring me with the dedication of their Yearbook.

Throughout the future I shall ever cherish thoughts of pleasant and eventful relationships I have enjoyed with the many students, teachers, and members of the administrative staff in the Regional High School system during the past fifteen years — on the athletic field, on the gym floor, and in the classroom.

I sincerely hope that the graduates of 1958, like all those who have preceded them at Regional, have acquired an intelligent understanding of life's true values, have learned "to think without confusion clearly", and have obtained the knowledge and discipliness of mind and heart that will characterize real success in all their dreams and ambitions.

DEDICATION

The Senior Class of 1958 has chosen to dedicate this yearbook to a man we all admire, Mr. Arthur E. Boutot. This is but a small gesture as a symbol of the deep affection and sincere respect that Mr. Boutot commands. We could never hope to list the many contributions he has made and students he has helped in his roles as teacher, class advisor, and coach; but rather let us say we are aware of his untiring efforts. His retirement this year will be Regional's loss. At this time we can thank the man who knew and lived the adage: "So enter, that daily thou mayest become more learned and thoughtful; so depart, that daily thou mayest become more useful to thy country and to mankind."

Thank you, Mr. Boutot.

The oboe breathes a husky note
A muted horn, as if from far away
tests his mellow voice.
The violin sings softly to herself;
Disorganized cacophonies of sound pervade the most obscure corner of the great hall.
In the watery morning light . . .
the quick tattoo of tardy feet,
a motor's palpitating hum,
the cry of brakes, piercing like
a tapered silver knife . . .
These are the sounds of myriad voices
Blended in an endless stream of chatter
And the ringing clatter of a locker
rudely shut.
The conductor stands erect, his eyes commanding,
taps the podium and holds his white baton suspended
in a beam of light.
A wave of teeming silence floods the hall.
The final bell with definite authority
dictates time and place and action;
The minute hand jumps ahead.
Then time is static, waiting with unbroken discipline
To take another tiny step.
The music flows into softly rounded drifts
That shift, reform, and shift again
With ceaseless, liquid movement.
Imperceptibly the tranquil tones are charged.
A capricious violin scurries down a narrow passage.
A swirl of sound spurts up
And dissipates restlessly through the air.
Suddenly
the music swells and shatters
like a mighty wave against a craggy bluff,
Flinging out a thousand brilliant fragments of itself,
Then falls back to mingle with the sea.
The drone of quiet voices pulsates through the broad marble corridors.
Gradually a restive rustling sound permeates the maze of halls.
An isolated laugh
crescendos with the timbre of a small glass bell.
At a signal, the doors burst open,
Emitting headlong streams of color
and clamor,
Only to swallow them up again a moment later
and the last hastening footfall disappears.
The symphony is ended.
The final note still lingers,
vibrating soundlessly in the air.
The presence left by the warm crush of human bodies
Quickly is engulfed by emptiness and chill.
A slanting ray of sunlight sifts through the shades
And guilds with ashen luminence
The cold angles of an empty desk and chair.
The hollow corridors are stark;
The building settles back, breathes deeply
Waiting for the heady throb of rich life-blood.

Good luck to the Class of 1958. As you leave, remember that you have learned here only a small part of that which you need to know in order to be happy and to succeed. You have only begun to learn. Keep learning. Never cease learning. Keep your body strong and your mind alert. Only by moving forward can we avoid moving backward. Only by moving forward in knowledge, in moral principle and in religious understanding can we approach the happy and full life. Our best wishes go with you.

To the graduating seniors:

One of the most pleasant experiences for teachers is to see a group of students enter high school as raw freshmen and watch them grow into a class qualifying for graduation. The pleasures of these experiences are remembered long after as members of the class carve their own individual successes in life.

I want to wish each of you the very best of luck as you go your own ways. Let us hear often of your achievements.

To the Class of 1958:

Although I have been with you for only two of your years in high school, I feel I have gotten to know you very well. You have been an excellent group of young men and young women and I appreciate the cooperative spirit you have demonstrated. I shall always have a special spot in my heart for the class of 1958.

May I congratulate you upon your present accomplishments. You have passed another milestone on your road to success. I trust you will have many more.

With great potential in returning lettermen, such as Don Carpenter and Bob Keith in the backfield and Jim Funcheon, Ray Walsh and Al Parker on the line, the Bulldogs played host to the Comets from Hillside. Led by the fine ball handling of Don Carpenter, the Bulldogs won an easy game, scoring 21 points and allowing the Comets none.

In the weeks that followed Regional faced stiff opposition in Morristown, Somerville, Caldwell, Roselle and Union. The outcome of these games was the same, the Bulldogs fighting up to the wire, but to no avail. At Westfield, the picture looked as though it might be different. The Regional line was now at its peak with Keith Jones and Bill Kelsay proving to be tremendous assets, with solid assistance coming from Berne Nolte, Herb Gwathney and Bill Jackson, the latter seeing both regular action in the line as well as in the backfield. Halftime found Regional ahead, but in the closing minutes of the game the Blue Devils came from behind to nip the Bulldogs by a narrow margin. Again, this time at Linden, Regional held the lead at halftime but failed to keep it as Linden won by only one point.

Thanksgiving Day there was a large gathering at Regional to witness the annual rivalry between Regional and Rahway. In the second half Rahway broke loose to win the final game of the season.

Anticipation

It takes many people working together to produce a successful basketball team. Our team at Regional this past year was successful to a moderate degree. At times the boys showed real class. A case in point is the marvelous manner in which Regional upended Linden High School who, previous to January 31, had suffered only two losses. In that game, and in others, such as the Plainfield, Roselle Park, Rahway and North Plainfield games, the Bulldogs showed style and finesse.

The starting line-up for most of the season was made up of seniors, Donald Carpenter, Tony Delia and Warren Watkins. The two juniors in the line-up were Bill Benner and Dennis Golcher.

To look into the future, which looks extremely bright, we can see next year's probable starting line-up, which will consist of Ed Reese, Bill Franklin, Bill Benner, Jay Gladstone and Dennis Golcher. Most probably Richie Baker, Todd Sheldon and Jerry Stuver will be seeing plenty of action. We feel hopeful that next year's club will do better than this year's team, which ended the season with a six and thirteen record.

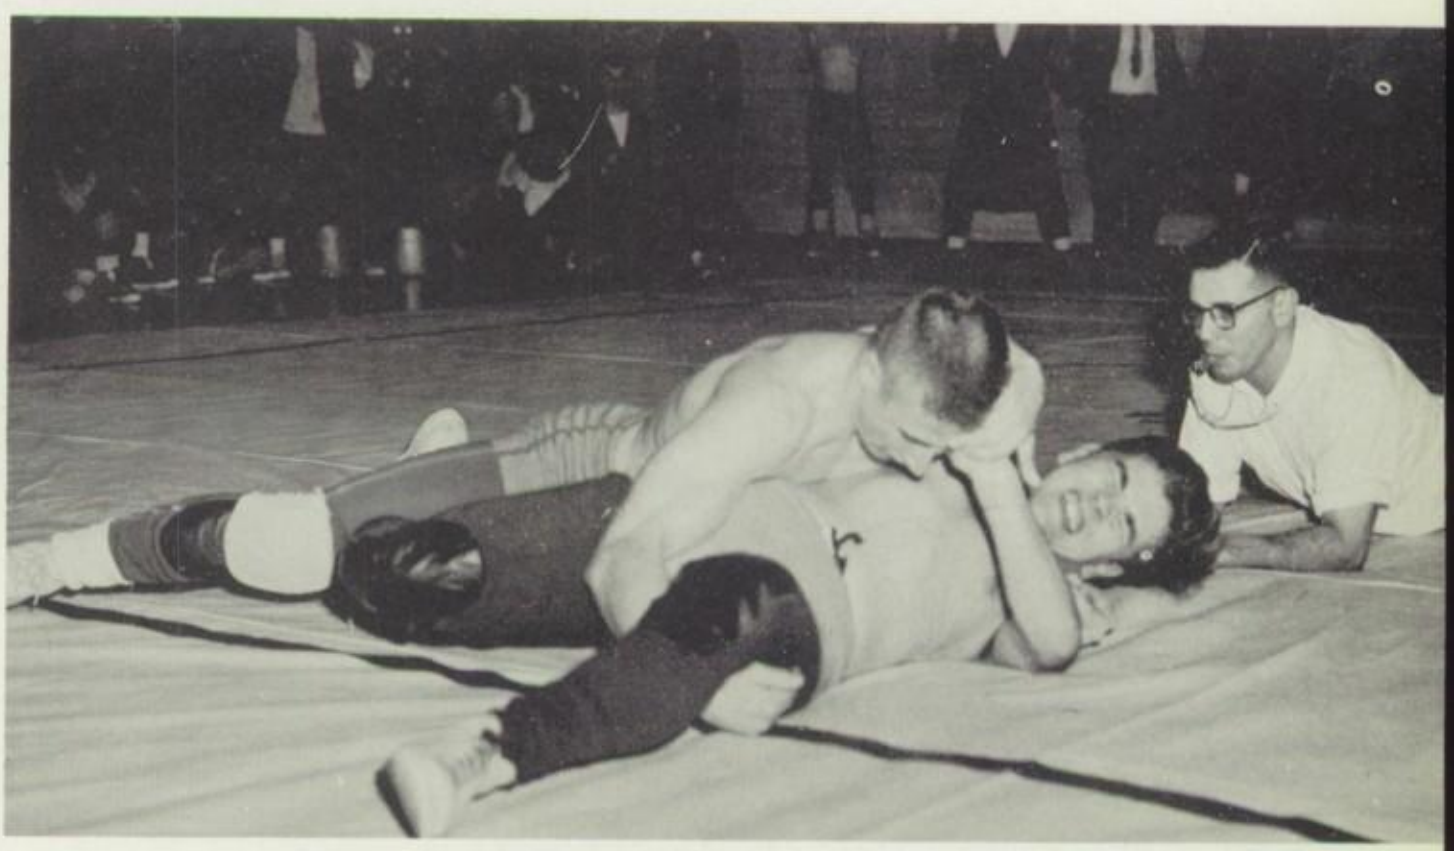
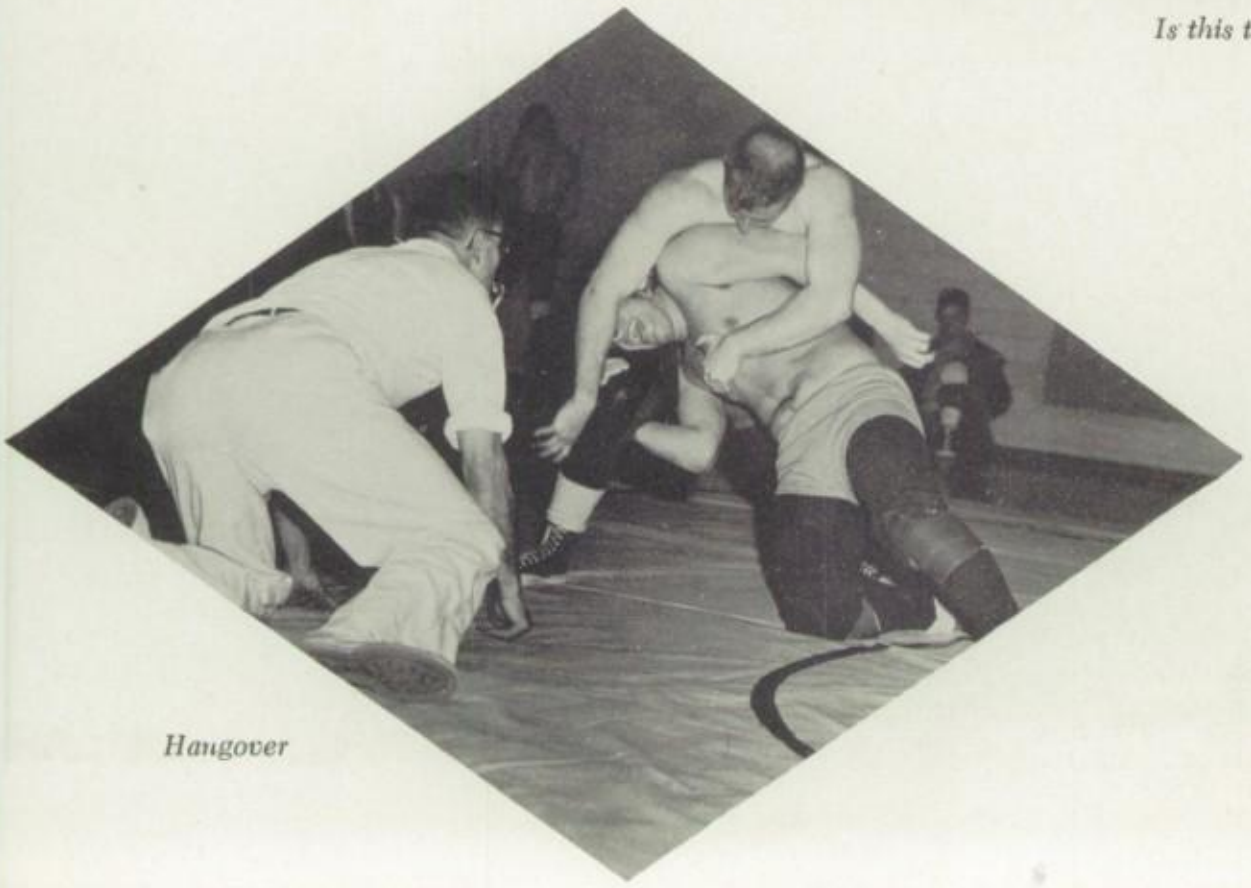
Harms Drives

After opening the season with wins in all their practice matches the outlook was bright for the Varsity Grapplers. With an opening win over Morristown the team lost by four points to Plainfield. After this loss the team came back to win three straight before losing to Bound Brook. Regional then won two more before dropping matches to the highly powerful teams of Union and Somerville. They ended the season with a record of six wins and four losses.

Our Junior Varsity Wrestlers caught the eye of the entire county. After winning seven straight matches they lost to Union and Somerville to end the season with a seven and two record. As compared to only one winner in the county Novice tournament last year this year they rang up four firsts and one second. With the record and performance of this year's J.V. team, the outlook is very bright for next year. Even the highly powerful Union team should fall to next year's Bulldogs.



Is this the way to pin your man?



Hangover

On March 1, 1958, many Grapplers entered their final wrestling matches for Springfield. The hopes of all but five dwindled as they reached the finals. Only two boys made the finals last year with none victorious. With five boys in the finals the hope of capturing the county title was in the minds of all the Regional fans. However, only one boy made the final a victorious match. George Harms brought glory to Regional as he upset the defending state champ from Union, Rich Janish in the 130 lb. class. Other finalists were John Petrozelli, 105 lbs.; Bob Keith, 141 lbs.; Bernie Keil, 176 lbs., and Fred Hochstrasser in the heavyweight class. All but Petrozelli are seniors.

GIRLS' SPORTS

G.A.A. OFFICERS

The girls' sports program at Dayton Regional is an integral part of school life. Regional's sports program is such an extensive one that there is at least one activity to suit every girl's taste, whether it be hockey, bowling, basketball, swimming, volleyball, softball, archery, or modern dance. The fine participation in these activities is testimony of their popularity.

The organization which provides for the afternoon school program is the Girls' Athletic Association, better known as the G.A.A. Working hand in hand with the G.A.A. is a group of selected girls in the Leaders' Club. This club, under the guidance of the physical education instructors, designs its activities for the purpose of a profitable sports program.

This program gives every girl an opportunity to develop her abilities, and positions of leadership for girls who excel. It also allows the enjoyment of participation in sports, and provides good wholesome fellowship among class-mates. Since good sportsmanship is always stressed an innate sense of honor and fair play is developed in every girl.
